Member Duties, Requirements, and Expectations

TRINITY PLAYERS Members are expected to behave in a manner that represents TRINITY PLAYERS and its purpose. All members should be respectful of the board, other members, and any other volunteers of this theater, maintain a friendly and welcoming atmosphere, and be supportive and kind to all to create a culture of respect where everyone feels safe, valued, and appreciated. We ask that our members be active participants in our theater: participate in as many productions as possible, from ushering to acting or directing, participate in one or two committees, attend social functions, help with building maintenance such as pre-production cleanings, and promote TRINITY PLAYERS and its works through your conversations, tickets sales, invitations, and encouragement to others to attend our productions and join our organization. Additionally, TRINITY PLAYERS conduct one membership meeting per year; members are asked to attend and contribute through discussion, research, and voting. Membership is a great way to be involved in the theater, and in return the theater needs your support. As we are committed to this theater and all who enter our building, we strive to create a positive and gossip free environment within our building and on social media. Any blatant disregard of this will be considered misconduct and a reasonable cause for termination of membership. If interested in becoming a member, please fill out the backside of this form and return it with your annual membership dues of $25 to the TRINITY PLAYERS Membership Coordinator, Mary Jane Edge, who chairs our membership or to any director, board member, or committee chair. Your application will be reviewed by the board. Upon acceptance, you will be expected to follow the above stated and the constitution and by-laws.

I, _____, agree to participate in the TRINITY PLAYERS organization and to adhere to the above stated duties, requirements, and expectations.
